Board Correspondence
The Board reviewed a letter from Citizens for Local Food endorsing the District changes in Food Service menus.

Reports
ASB Report
No ASB representative was in attendance.

ReCyclery
Kess Kolff from the ReCyclery explained a bike-a-thon is planned for Wednesday, May 6, 2015; donation forms are available on the ReCyclery website. Friday, May 1, 2015 the bike shelter at Blue Heron School will be dedicated. Mr. Kolff thanked the many businesses and community members who donated funds and time to construct the shelter, and showed some pictures from the construction site.

Math Recommendations
Dave Thielk, math teacher at the High School, and Lisa Cartwright, Math Coach, Grades K-5 gave the board members a math task to solve. Discussion followed. Ms. Cartwright explained some of the strategies being used in Grades K-5 to help students be successful in meeting the new Common Core math standards. Mr. Thielk spoke about how high school students are being prepared for the new standards, and explained that these new standards are a balanced combination of procedure and understanding, not merely mastering math facts. He pointed out that teachers will need support while accomplishing the shift in teaching practice these new standards require. The process of accelerating students in math classes was discussed.

Ms. James-Wilson moved that items 9.01 - Approval of Visit History Trip, and 09.04 - Curriculum Adoption be moved ahead of the Superintendent and Business Manager reports. Mr. White seconded, and the motion passed by consensus.

Action Items
Approval of Visit History Trip 2017
Tom Gambill and Gina McMather, High School teachers, explained this trip, which is usually taken annually, will skip 2016, and travel to Greece in 2017. Discussion followed. Ms. James-Wilson moved to approve the Visit History Trip 2017. Mr. White seconded and the motion carried 5-0.

Re: Hiring of Physical Education Teacher at PTHS
Date: May 8, 2015

The high school would like to recommend Richard Sweeney for the position of .8 physical education teacher at PTHS. Mr. Sweeney has served in the position this year, initially as a substitute from October – November, and then as a leave replacement teacher through the end of this school year.

Mr. Sweeney does not have an endorsement for physical education, but he has a great deal of experience working in physical education and wellness, through coaching and athletics. We will be supporting him in appropriate professional development opportunities to strengthen his skill as a PE teacher.

Mr. Sweeney was the only applicant for the position.

Thank you.
May 7, 2015

Dear Dr. Engle,

Please accept this letter as recommendation for Sally Shaw-Dankert as a 1.0 FTE Kindergarten Teacher at Grant Street Elementary for the 2015-16 school year.

Sally recently completed her student teaching at Blue Heron School and has received very strong recommendations from her supervising teacher, Karmen Meier, and the school principal, Dr. Diane Lashinsky. She has 13 years of experience teaching students through coaching and working as a paraeducator. Sally is presently employed in the Chimacum School District as a paraeducator working with students who have behavioral challenges. During the interview, we were impressed by how she continually expressed the importance of building relationships with students, parents and colleagues and feels strongly about building community within our kindergarten program and our school. Sally brought energy, knowledge and a love for learning into the interview process and the team unanimously felt she would be a wonderful addition to our kindergarten team.

Lisa Condran, Jason Lynch, Joy Wentzel and Mary Wilson joined me on the interview committee.

Sincerely,

Mary Sepler

Dear Dr. Engle,

Please accept this letter as recommendation for Katie (Kathryn) Pangelinan as a 1.0 FTE Kindergarten Teacher at Grant Street Elementary for the 2015-16 school year.

Katie has been a familiar face here at Grant Street for several years. After teaching in Saipan, she returned to the United States and completed her student teaching with Allen Fox in third grade, fulfilling requirements for her State of Washington certification. During this time, she demonstrated strong communication skills with students, parents and the teaching teams. Her creativity and enthusiasm was well received by the students and she was eager to review student performance and reflect on teaching and learning.

Since then, Katie has been a very popular and reliable substitute teacher on our campus. She eagerly teaches in all classrooms and programs bringing a calm, positive and confident manner to all instructional settings.

Lisa Condran, Jason Lynch, Joy Wentzel and Mary Wilson joined me on the interview committee. We are all confident that Katie will make a wonderful addition to our kindergarten team.

Sincerely,

Mary Sepler

May 7, 2015

Dear Dr. Engle,

Please accept this letter as recommendation for Ellen Thomas as the .6 FTE School Counselor Leave Replacement position at Grant Street Elementary for the 2015-16 school year.

Ellen comes highly recommended from administrators in the Chimacum School District where she was seen as a district leader, a creative problem solver, an innovator and excellent listener to students and adults. She left her work in the Chimacum School District to work abroad and has worked in international schools in Malaysia and Japan for the last four years. Her supervisor from Malaysia spoke highly of her ability to resolve conflict and inspire confidence in students and parents.

Jean Scarboro and Joan Gitelman joined me in skyping with Ellen to interview her this week. It was a unanimous decision that Ellen will step into the structures Jean has established within our school seamlessly and that she will work collaboratively with our school teams and families. We are excited to have this excellent replacement to fill the void while Jean takes her family leave.

Sincerely,

Mary Sepler

Henry N Fly
Dear Port Townsend School District Administration,

As you may know I have been a para-educator for a long time, and have worked in many different roles including lab aide at the High School, "Computer Lady", Student Management at Blue Heron, and as a support for Special Education students in and out of the classroom at Blue Heron. It has been a rewarding experience and I think I contributed to the lives of many children.

There are many wonderful things about our school district. Staff and students honestly care about each other. Kindness, courtesy and empathy are visible in all populations. There are great opportunities to learn and grow. And I have always felt valued as an aide by teachers and often by the students I am helping. I am grateful that I have spent almost 20 years in this environment.

It has also been an increasingly frustrating and sad occupation. Every day I work with kids who are in classes that are so far above their abilities that they become a tangle of coping skills. Every day these kids are in situations that confirm for them that they are less capable than their fellow students. These aren't just the lowest students - its many students on IEPs or who have other socio/economic challenges.

I have seen the schools fluctuate from a pull out model to a total inclusion model which exists now. Life is more complicated than models and one size will always be a disservice to some. Trying to shove students into whichever model with increasing stress put on them and the staff that serves them has recently made me ill by Spring, from gall bladder issues to pneumonia to out of control allergies. This is a big part why I am at this time submitting my resignation.

I am also increasingly distressed by a broken system that is not keeping children safe. We see kids who are abused and neglected every day, and may call CPS and bring it to the attention of councilors and administrators, but the situation just continues. At the Lummi Nation I saw signs in and near the school that told children - you have a right not to be hurt. And I would go further to say children have a right to food, education, medical and dental care, appropriate clothing, and to be clean and safe. I believe every child should hear this message every year complete with what to do if this isn't true including information about the CHINS process. It is so important that we treat the whole child.

For the future, I am dedicating the rest of my life to being a climate activist and am sure I will see many of you around town. I hope you take this letter as a sincere expression of a score long journey. I am sad that many people believe that if I speak my truth I will not be able to use PTSD as a reference. I am acting in good faith and with hope.

Sincerely,

Julia Cochrane

Subject: Coaching Choice

Good Morning,

I am emailing you both to inform you that after a lot of thinking, talking, and soul searching I have come to the decision to step down from the assistant coach position for both volleyball and softball.

This year has really been an eye-opening experience for me and I am realizing that I need to slow down and take some time for me as a person and also to really get my feet under me as a full-time teacher. I truly love coaching and am very excited about the direction that you two are taking our PT Athletics Program and I will continue to be an advocate for our athletes, coaches and program leaders (you two :).

Due to my year of mystery health issues and challenges, all of the demands that teaching is requiring of me, as well as my enrollment in the National Board program I think this is the best decision for me at this moment. I appreciate all that you have both done for me over the past few years!

Also, with volleyball going through a head coach transition, I would be happy to help out a little during the summer (if the new coach would like some help) and or offer to be a permanent score keeper (book) for varsity home games.

Please understand that this was not an easy decision but I feel that it is a necessary one.

I would be happy to meet with either of you, in person, if you feel that is needed to further discuss this decision and or talk about some options regarding when help might be needed for the upcoming season.

Warm Regards,
Amy Tidball
I, Michael Ryan, am resigning from P.T.S.D. for personal health reasons as of 6-30-15.

Dear Colleagues:

I want to let you know that because I will be moving to a home that is outside the boundaries of District 4 of the Port Townsend School District in the near future, I will not be eligible to file for re-election on the November ballot. I will be completing the remainder of my term, of course, and will participate fully.

This has been a difficult decision. I truly enjoy my board service and highly value the opportunity I have had these past three and a half years to work with such a fine group of colleagues. I believe that our district is moving in a positive direction and will continue to move forward, inspiring our students, staff, and community to accomplish great things.

It is my hope that a number of dedicated citizen leaders who reside in District 4 will embrace the opportunity to serve our community by serving on the board. There is much work yet to be done.

Pam Daly
Dear Dave,

At the April 27, 2015 school board meeting, I listened to your presentation and heard your opinion that the Holt math series may no longer be meeting the needs of our students. Since there was no opportunity for members of the public to ask questions or make comments following your presentation, I have one now.

During your presentation, you made no mention of the excellent video series that accompanies each of the Holt textbooks (Algebra 1, Geometry and Algebra 2). I have been watching these videos myself as a way to relearn math I have forgotten (so that I can assist a few students with their math this year). I truly think that this series is one of the best instructional series I have ever used. Each section of each book has its own short video, very clearly (albeit sometimes comically) presented. Here is a link to one of the Algebra 2 videos

While the current textbooks may have some shortcomings in their order of presentation, they have this advantage of the accompanying complete video series. Are there other series available that will have this feature? I thought this deserved mention since any student currently needing some extra support (unless they don’t have internet access) can get much assistance from these short videos. I appreciate that you provide a link of these videos to all your students, and I hope they take advantage of them. I am a fan of the Holt series, and I hope if it is replaced, it is replaced by something truly better (if such a series exists).

Sincerely,
Lisa Crosby
Purpose Statement

Maritime Discovery Schools is deeply rooted in our shared sense of community, local landscapes and resources, excellence for each student, and our sense of place in our historic working seaport. Our community recognizes and embraces our role as educators and is committed to working with the district, teachers, and each student to help make the connection between school and a career.

This initiative is focused on place-based learning in our maritime community, through meaningful contributions by students to the community, and by the community to our schools. The initiative will be achieved through building strong community partnerships, and district support of teachers, by providing time, training, resources, and tools that will to allow them to work collaboratively to create a cohesive district wide learning experience with a consistent tie to the sea and our community. We will prepare students for the future in a rapidly changing world, by engaging every student as an active learner in experiences that have value beyond school.

Through the Maritime Discovery Schools initiative each student will
- engage in rigorous, in depth, and authentic learning,
- cultivate curiosity,
- be independent thinkers, problem solvers, and lifelong learners,
- connect with meaningful ideas,
- work collaboratively,
- make an impact in the community, and
- be prepared for college and career.

Under the umbrella of learning through a sense of place in our maritime community, with broad connections to the community and sea, we are initially focused on excellence in the following themes:
- Craftsmanship and creativity
- Stewardship of place, the environment, and the sea
- Citizenship and careers
- Leadership and self-reliance
Program Goals

The goals for students and teachers have been broken into five categories to align with the purpose statement. The goals under student learning outcomes supported the seven bulleted items about the way students will engage with learning and how teachers can support that through teaching practice. The other four categories are goals that specifically support the focus themes. Some goals may fall under more than one category, but have been placed in only one category to prevent duplication.

Students:

Student learning outcomes
Increase opportunities for students to publicly share their work.
Increase opportunities for students to learn through a variety of styles.
Increase student engagement and excitement about school.
Increase student problem solving ability.

Craftsmanship and creativity
Increase student ability to design, build, and repair objects.
Increase student participation in creative expression.

Stewardship of place, the environment, and the sea
Increase student participation in stewardship.
Increase student connection to the sea.
Increase student knowledge of the sea and a sense of place.
Increase student capacity to safely and environmentally operate and maintain boats.

Citizenship and careers
Increase positive student contributions to the community.
Increase student efficacy, and belief that they can make an impact.
Increase student interaction and engagement with the community.
Increase the number of work experiences for high school students: apprenticeships, mentorships, and internships.

Leadership and self-reliance
Increase student self-esteem, self-confidence, and leadership.
Increase the ability of a student to articulate and share their personal learning objectives.
Increase student awareness of health and wellness, including growing and cooking their own food.
Increase student safety in and around the water.
Program Goals (continued)

Teachers:
Student learning outcomes and teaching practice
Increase quality and rate of teacher collaboration.
Increase all students access to education through differentiated instruction
Increase inquiry and experiential learning in the curriculum.
Increase teacher knowledge of specific teaching practices including backwards design, collaborative learning, workshop model, and thinking strategies.

Craftsmanship and creativity
Increase integration of craftsmanship and creative expression into curriculum.

Stewardship of place, the environment, and the sea
Increase teacher excitement and engagement with maritime and place-based learning.
Increase teacher knowledge of experiential education, place-based, and project-based learning.
Increase integration of maritime and nautical topics into curriculum.

Citizenship and careers
Improve teacher job satisfaction.
Increase teacher contact with community members.
Increase integration of career and work experiences into curriculum.
Increase opportunities for authentic learning and service learning in the curriculum.

Leadership and self-reliance
Increase teacher involvement with students in creating personalized student learning objectives.
Increase opportunities for student leadership in curriculum.
Increase teacher leadership.

School System:
Increase visibility of MDS in each school (physical and virtual).
Improve clarity of district risk management plan for field trips, shop equipment, volunteers, and other experiential learning.
Improve district-wide and building professional development offerings to align with outlined teacher goals.
Incorporate teacher leadership at a school and district level to guide decisions regarding MDS.
Develop a clear plan for engaging volunteers.
Align district and building goals with MDS initiative.
Create system wide opportunities for exhibition of student learning (learning fairs, etc)

Community Partners:
Increase the number of partners with the schools.
Improve the quality of engagement of partners with the schools in project based learning, place based learning, inquiry, and student directed learning.
Increase partners involvement in district and school committees.
Increase the number of intentional co-partnerships with community organizations.

Community Members:
Increase community and parent volunteers in the schools.
Increase the number of families with school-age-children in the community.
Increase school enrollment.
Increase school building use by community members beyond the school day.
Increase community member involvement in district and school committees.
Increase engagement between the community and school.

Regional/National/International Community:
Increase engagement with regional, national, and international schools and organizations about community engagement, place-based learning, and maritime education.

Lexile Text Measures for Pearson Social Studies Programs

Pearson’s new Social Studies programs received Lexile Text Measure scores that show they are right on target to be considered appropriate text at each grade level.

Teachers use the Lexile Framework™ for Reading to match the ability level of a reader with a text that is written at an appropriate level of difficulty. A Lexile text measure is a number indicating how difficult it is to read the text. Text difficulty is based on factors such as word frequency and sentence length. A Lexile reader measure is a number indicating a person’s ability to read. Reading ability is based on factors such as vocabulary and skills. A reader with a measure of 600L who is given a text measured at 600L is expected to have a 75% comprehension rate. The following chart shows the relationship between grade level and reader and text measures.

A district can choose to establish standards for students such that each student should be reading grade-level appropriate texts with 75% comprehension. This can easily be implemented by selecting texts that have Lexile measures 150L below the reader measures. It is up to educators to determine the optimal level of expected reading comprehension for each reader. (Excerpted from “Lexiles Framework and Reading Levels” and “How is Readability Determined within The Lexile Framework™ for Reading?)

Social Studies 8th Grade

Topics of study include U.S. History from the Revolutionary War to the 20th Century. We also examine American Civics through the Constitution, Bill of Rights, and the three branches of government. Other topics during the year include the history of slavery and the American Civil War, economics, reform movements and immigration, World War I & II, and the Holocaust. We study the North American continent and U.S. geography. In addition, students research and debate on a Bill of Rights topic of their choice as part of their OSPI-Developed Assessment (formerly known as OSPI’s Classroom Based Assessment).

We concentrate on written history and the ability to draw facts, information, and conclusions from written sources. Our writing focuses on well-written paragraphs and well-organized essays which include the effective use of a claim, evidence, and elaboration. Throughout the year we will also focus on vocabulary related to the areas of study. Our curriculum is aligned with the Grade Level Expectations for Social Studies, as well as the Common Core State Standards for English/Language Arts and Literacy in History/Social Studies.

Social Studies – Grade 8

In eighth grade, students develop a new, more abstract level of understanding of social studies concepts. The recommended context for developing this understanding is U.S. history and government, 1776 to 1900. Students explore the ideas, issues, and events from the framing of the Constitution up through Reconstruction and industrialization. After reviewing the founding of the United States, particularly the Constitution, students explore the development of politics, society, culture, and economy in the United States to deepen conceptual understandings in civics, geography, and economics. In particular, studying the causes and consequences of the Civil War helps them to comprehend more profoundly the rights and responsibilities of citizens in a culturally diverse democracy.

EALR 1: CIVICS The student understands and applies knowledge of government, law, politics, and the nation’s fundamental documents to make decisions about local, national, and international issues and to demonstrate thoughtful, participatory citizenship.

Component 1.1: Understands key ideals and principles of the United States, including those in the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution, and other fundamental documents.

1.1.1 Understands key ideals and principles outlined in the Declaration of Independence, including life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, the U.S. Constitution, including the rule of law, separation of powers, representative government, and popular sovereignty, and the Bill of Rights, including due process and freedom of expression.

Examples:
- Explains how the Declaration of Independence establishes life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness as goals for our nation.
- Explains how the Constitution distinguishes popular sovereignty as a principle of our nation.

Suggested Unit: U.S.—Fighting for Independence and Framing the Constitution (1776—1815)

OSPI-developed Assessment: Constitutional Issues

1.1.2 Evaluates efforts to reduce discrepancies between key ideals and reality in the United States, including:
- How amendments to the Constitution have sought to extend rights to new groups.
- How key ideals and constitutional principles set forth in fundamental documents relate to public issues.

Examples:
- Judges how well the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments have expanded freedoms for African Americans and other groups in the past and present.
— Judges the legacy of the Declaration of Sentiments and Resolutions in Seneca Falls in promoting women's right to own property.
— Judges the legacy of the Indian Reorganization Act in promoting the rights of tribal governments.

Suggested Unit: U.S.—Looking Forward

OSPI-developed Assessment: Constitutional Issues

Component 1.2: Understands the purposes, organization, and function of governments, laws, and political systems.

1.2.1 Understands and analyzes the structure and powers of government at the national level.
Examples:
— Examines Article 1 of the U.S. Constitution and identifies the powers and responsibilities of the House of Representatives and Senate.
— Examines Article 2 of the U.S. Constitution and identifies the powers and responsibilities of the President and his cabinet.
— Examines Article 3 of the U.S. Constitution and identifies the responsibilities and powers of the Supreme Court.
— Examines how the Supreme Court exercised powers outlined in Article 3 of the Constitution when ruling in Cherokee Nation v. Georgia.
— Examines how Congress exercised powers outlined in Article 1 of the Constitution when it passed the Missouri Compromise.
— Examines how President Jefferson used Article 2 of the Constitution to justify his role in the Louisiana Purchase.

Suggested Unit: U.S.—Slavery, Expansion, Removal, and Reform (1801—1850)

OSPI-developed Assessment: Checks and Balances

1.2.2 Evaluates the effectiveness of the system of checks and balances in the United States based on an event.
Examples:
— Critiques the effectiveness of checks and balances when President Andrew Jackson ignored the Supreme Court's ruling in Cherokee Nation v. Georgia.
— Critiques the effectiveness of checks and balances when President James Polk took control of Mexican territory without a formal declaration of war.
— Critiques the effectiveness of checks and balances in the Supreme Court case of Marbury v. Madison.

Suggested Unit: U.S.—Slavery, Expansion, Removal, and Reform (1801—1850)

OSPI-developed Assessment: Checks and Balances

1.2.3 Understands that the U.S. government includes concepts of both a democracy and a republic.
Examples:

— Explains how the U.S. government can be considered a "constitutional democracy" because the people are the ultimate source of authority.
— Explains how the U.S. government can be considered a "constitutional republic" because its leaders and officials are elected as representatives of the people.

Suggested Unit: U.S.—Fighting for Independence and Framing the Constitution (1776—1815)

Component 1.3: Understands the purposes and organization of international relationships and U.S. foreign policy.

1.3.1 Analyzes how the United States has interacted with other countries in the past or present.
Examples:
— Examines how the Dawes Act resulted in loss of land and economic devastation for tribes.
— Examines how the U.S. government recruited workers from China to build the Transcontinental Railroad.
— Examines how the United States recruited workers from Europe to provide industrial labor.

Suggested Unit: U.S.—Development and Struggles in the West, Industrialization, Immigration, and Urbanization (1870—1900)

Component 1.4: Understands civic involvement.

1.4.1 Analyzes how a position on an issue attempts to balance individual rights and the common good.
Examples:
— Takes a position on federal immigration policy that attempts to balance human rights with national security.
— Takes a position on government surveillance that attempts to preserve individual privacy while maintaining national security.

Suggested Unit: U.S.—Looking Forward

OSPI-developed Assessment: Constitutional Issues

EALR 2: ECONOMICS The student applies understanding of economic concepts and systems to analyze decision-making and the interactions between individuals, households, businesses, governments, and societies.

Component 2.1: Understands that people have to make choices between wants and needs and evaluate the outcomes of those choices.
2.1.1 Analyzes examples of how groups and individuals have considered profit and personal values in making economic choices in the past or present.
Examples:
— Examines how the personal values of settlers determined what services were established, including saloons and general stores.

Suggested Unit: U.S.—Development and Struggles in the West, Industrialization, Immigration, and Urbanization (1870—1900)

Component 2.2: Understands how economic systems function.

2.2.1 Analyzes how the forces of supply and demand have affected the production, distribution, and consumption of goods, services, and resources in the United States in the past or present.
Examples:
— Examines the use of immigrant labor in the building of the transcontinental railroads as a result of the forces of supply and demand.

Suggested Unit: U.S.—Development and Struggles in the West, Industrialization, Immigration, and Urbanization (1870—1900)

2.2.2 Understands and analyzes how the forces of supply and demand have affected international trade in the United States in the past or present.
Examples:
— Examines how England’s demand for cotton and indigo resulted in increased exports for the United States.
— Examines how the European demand for animal furs impacted trade with the United States.

Suggested Unit: U.S.—Slavery, Expansion, Removal, and Reform (1801—1850)

Component 2.3: Understands the government’s role in the economy.

2.3.1 Understands and analyzes the influence of the U.S. government’s taxation, creation of currency, and tariffs in the past or present.
Examples:
— Examines how President Andrew Jackson used the protective tariff to secure emerging industries in the nineteenth century.
— Examines and critiques how government’s laissez-faire approach to business regulation led to the establishment of the Lowell Girls Union in the 1830s.

Suggested Unit: U.S.—Slavery, Expansion, Removal, and Reform (1801—1850)
Component 2.4: Understands the economic issues and problems that all societies face.

2.4.1 Understands and analyzes the distribution of wealth and sustainability of resources in the United States in the past or present.
Examples:
- Compares the impact of Industrialization in the North on the standard of living of laborers and factory owners.
- Analyzes how the growth of slavery throughout the South created an economic system dominated by large plantation owners.

Suggested Unit: U.S.—Slavery, Expansion, Removal, and Reform (1801—1850)

EALR 3: GEOGRAPHY The student uses a spatial perspective to make reasoned decisions by applying the concepts of location, region, and movement and demonstrating knowledge of how geographic features and human cultures impact environments.

Component 3.1.1: Understands the physical characteristics, cultural characteristics, and location of places, regions, and spatial patterns on the Earth's surface.

3.1.2 Understands and analyzes physical and cultural characteristics of places and regions in the United States from the past or in the present.
Examples:
- Explains information gained from physical and political maps of the United States.
- Examines how the railroad led to the development of Chicago as a leader in the meatpacking industry.

Suggested Unit: U.S.—Development and Struggles in the West, Industrialization, Immigration, and Urbanization (1870—1900)

Component 3.2: Understands human interaction with the environment.

3.2.1 Analyzes how the environment has affected people and how people have affected the environment in the United States in the past or present.
Examples:
- Examines how Pierre L'Enfant altered the landscape of Washington, D.C., in order to build the Capitol.
- Examines how communication difficulties, due to the breadth of the Atlantic Ocean, were a factor in the Battle of New Orleans and the rise of Andrew Jackson.

Suggested Unit: U.S.—Fighting for Independence and Framing the Constitution (1776—1815)

3.2.2 Understands cultural diffusion in the United States from the past or in the present.
Examples:
- Explains the diffusion of Chinese culture in the West during the Gold Rush.
- Explains how Mexican vaqueros introduced ranching practices.

Suggested Unit: U.S.—Slavery, Expansion, Removal, and Reform. (1801—1850)

3.2.3 Understands and analyzes migration as a catalyst for the growth of the United States in the past or present.
Examples:
- Examines the impact of the forced migration of slaves on the growth of the United States.
- Explains the role of European immigrants in propelling Thomas Jefferson to the presidency.

Suggested Unit: U.S.—Fighting for Independence and Framing the Constitution (1776—1815)

Component 3.3: Understands the geographic context of global issues.

3.3.1 Understands that learning about the geography of the United States helps us understand the global issue of diversity.
Examples:
- Explains how migration and immigration instigated by the California Gold Rush led to the establishment of today's multicultural communities in the West.
- Explains how immigration caused by the transcontinental railroad led to anti-immigration sentiment that continues today.

Suggested Unit: U.S.—Development and Struggles in the West, Industrialization, Urbanization, and Immigration (1870—1900)

EALR 4: HISTORY The student understands and applies knowledge of historical thinking, chronology, eras, turning points, major ideas, individuals, and themes of local, Washington State, tribal, United States, and world history in order to evaluate how history shapes the present and future.

Component 4.1: Understands historical chronology.

4.1.2 Understands how the following themes and developments help to define eras in U.S. history from 1776 to 1900:
- Fighting for independence and framing the Constitution (1776—1815).
- Slavery, expansion, removal, and reform (1801—1850).
- Civil War and Reconstruction (1850—1877).
- Development and struggles in the West, industrialization, immigration, and urbanization (1870—1900).
Examples:
— Explains how the Revolutionary War and the War of 1812 help to define early U.S. history as a time of struggle for independence.
— Explains how the Monroe Doctrine helps to define U.S. history from 1801 to 1850 as a period of expansion.
— Explains how Reconstruction and the emergence of Jim Crow laws help to define U.S. history following the Civil War.
— Explains how the rise of prominent American Indian leaders in resistance movements against U.S. encroachment helps to define U.S. history at the end of the 19th century.

Component 4.2: Understands and analyzes causal factors that have shaped major events in history.

4.2.1 Understands and analyzes how individuals and movements have shaped U.S. history (1776 —1900).
Examples:
— Examines the impact of Harriet Beecher Stowe's novel "Uncle Tom's Cabin" on the abolitionist movement in the United States.
— Explains the impact of the Seneca Falls Convention on the advancement of women's rights.
— Explains the impact of the Lowell strike on future labor movements.

Suggested Unit: U.S.—Civil War and Reconstruction (1850—1877)

4.2.2 Understands and analyzes how cultures and cultural groups have contributed to U.S. history (1776—1900).
Examples:
— Explains how African cultural and religious customs influenced the culture of the U.S.
— Explains how the Whitmams and other missionaries affected the religious and social practices of indigenous people in the United States.

Suggested Unit: U.S.—Slavery, Expansion, Removal, and Reform (1801—1850)

4.2.3 Understands and analyzes how technology and ideas have impacted U.S. history (1776—1900).
Examples:
— Examines the effect of the cotton gin on propagating the expansion of slavery in the Southern U.S.
— Examines how Robert Fulton's steamship accelerated trade and westward movement in the United States.

Suggested Unit: U.S.—Civil War and Reconstruction (1850—1877)
Component 4.3: Understands that there are multiple perspectives and interpretations of historical events.

4.3.1 Analyzes and interprets historical materials from a variety of perspectives in U.S. history (1776—1900).
Examples:
- Distinguishes between conflicting views of the reasons for Southern secession.
- Examines artifacts documenting the various ways African Americans communicated on the Underground Railroad.

Suggested Unit: U.S.—Civil War and Reconstruction (1850—1877)

4.3.2 Analyzes multiple causal factors to create positions on major events in U.S. history (1776 – 1900).
Examples:
- Presents a position on the causes and outcomes of the Civil War, demonstrating understanding of varying viewpoints of the conflict.
- Presents a position on the causes and outcomes of the Mexican War, demonstrating understanding of varying viewpoints of the conflict.

Suggested Unit: U.S.—Civil War and Reconstruction (1850—1877)

Component 4.4: Uses history to understand the present and plan for the future.

4.4.1 Analyzes how a historical event in United States history helps us to understand a current issue.
Examples:
- Examines how past immigration patterns to the United States have shaped modern immigration policy and public opinion.
- Examines how the Sherman Anti-Trust Act helps us to understand corporate regulations today.

Suggested Unit: U.S.—Development and Struggles in the West, Immigration, Industrialization, and Urbanization (1870—present)

EALR 5: SOCIAL STUDIES SKILLS The student understands and applies reasoning skills to conduct research, deliberate, and form and evaluate positions through the processes of reading, writing, and communicating.

Component 5.1: Uses critical reasoning skills to analyze and evaluate positions.

5.1.1 Understands reasons based on evidence for a position on an issue or event.
Examples:
- Explains the reasons for one's own position about the effectiveness of the system of checks and balances when Jackson ignored the Supreme Court Ruling in Cherokee Nation v. Georgia.
— Explains the reasons for one's own position about the effectiveness of the system of checks and balances when Congress impeached Andrew Johnson.

Suggested Unit: U.S.—Slavery, Expansion, Removal, and Reform (1801—1850)

OSPI-developed Assessment: Checks and Balances

5.1.2 Evaluates the logic of reasons for a position on an issue or event.
Examples:
— Critiques the order and coherence of reasons when evaluating the effectiveness of the federal system of checks and balances during Andrew Jackson’s presidency.
— Critiques the organization of reasons when evaluating the effectiveness of the federal system of checks and balances during the impeachment of Andrew Johnson.

Suggested Unit: U.S.—Slavery, Expansion, Removal, and Reform (1801—1850)

OSPI-developed Assessment: Checks and Balances

Component 5.2: Uses inquiry-based research.

5.2.1 Creates and uses research questions that are tied to an essential question to focus inquiry on an issue.
Examples:
— Develops research questions that are tied to an essential question to focus inquiry on how the need for national security can be balanced with the right to individual privacy.
— Develops research questions that are tied to an essential question to focus inquiry on how amendments to the Constitution have sought to extend rights to disenfranchised individuals.

Suggested Unit: U.S.—Looking Forward

OSPI-developed Assessment: Constitutional Issues

5.2.2 Evaluates the logic of positions in primary and secondary sources to interpret an issue or event.
Examples:
— Critiques the order and coherence of newscasts and newspaper articles on the contributions of migrant workers when interpreting various perspectives on federal immigration policy.
— Critiques the coherence of positions taken by slaves, slaveholders, and abolitionists.

Suggested Unit: U.S.—Development and Struggles in the West, Industrialization, Immigration, and Urbanization (1870—1900)

OSPI-developed Assessment: Constitutional Issues; Checks and Balances

VIII. Special Notes

A. List any special problems that may arise related to sex, race, or ethnic bias and how they will be handled in a classroom.

We will discuss the historical setting
B. List any special features of this text or series that contributed significantly to its choice for recommendation.

The use of primary sources as a basis for studying history is excellent pedagogy. The questions are completely aligned to the CCSS ELA.

C. List other titles considered for selection.

D. Additional rationale for selection.

This material provides multiple opportunities to analyze primary sources, and this material complements the textbooks with thorough document-based questions to scaffold this skill in accordance with CCSS ELA.

Usefulness of DBQ Curriculum to Middle School Social Studies Instruction

The Teacher Resource Binder (TRB) includes each of the DBQ or Mini-Q lessons and support materials for teachers. Examples of teacher support include content notes for documents, teaching tips, graphic organizers, and transparencies. Many schools purchase the TRB and photocopy the DBQ lessons for students.

The long version DBQs typically are 14-17 documents in length. The short version DBQs average 9-10 documents. Moreover, many of the short version textual documents have been edited to accommodate reading levels. The key is the primary goal of the teacher and how much time he or she wants to allot in his or her teaching calendar.

Documents vary in their reading level. Some are difficult and others quite straightforward. None of the textual documents are over a page long, and many are a few sentences in length. Although occasionally definitions are inserted for words, the length of documents is edited rather than translated or transcribed.

The DBQ Project is unapologetically a writing program that also teaches history. Good historical thinking is intertwined with writing, and as educators we cannot avoid this reality. There is no question that thinking is clarified by writing, and the student who says, “I know what I want to say, but just can’t write it” is often not done thinking. If we are serious about assessing historical thinking, we must get our students to write with power and skill.

DBQ and Mini-Q lessons provide students with an opportunity to analyze informational text, to synthesize information from various sources, to identify and evaluate author point of view, and to support claims with evidence in writing. Students practice close reading of non-fiction texts, speaking and listening, and writing skills.
The documents can be used for Socratic seminars, debates, role-plays, etc. Teachers can also pare down the writing process to culminate in an outline or summary. Although students cannot learn to write without practicing writing, DBQ Project Materials support important discussion skills and can help students understand the type of thinking involved in writing research papers too. Several pages in the toolkit specifically address this concern.

Schools and teachers may photocopy the right hand side of the binder for classroom use. Also, there are many black-line masters in the Teachers’ Toolkit that are meant to be photocopied.
Social Studies emphases Sixth Grade: In our study of ancient states and empires, we develop an understanding of the meaning of “civilization” and “culture” and how these ideas apply to the variety of autonomous societal organizations that have existed through history and that continue to exist. We also focus on written history and the ability to draw facts, information, and conclusions from written sources. Our writing focuses on well-written paragraphs with a claim, evidence, and elaboration. This is coupled with the use of correct spelling and grammar. I have been careful to align our curriculum with the Grade Level Expectations for Social Studies, as well as the Common Core State Standards for English/Language Arts and Literacy in History/Social Studies.

Social Studies emphases Seventh Grade: In our study of the progression from ancient states and empires to the countries and governments of the Renaissance, we continue to develop an understanding of the meaning of “civilization” and “culture” and how these ideas apply to the variety of autonomous societal organizations that have existed through history and that continue to exist. We also compare a variety of religions to better understand their effect on the social and political development of Western Civilization. Social Studies 8th Grade

Topics of study include U.S. History from the Revolutionary War to the 20th Century. We also examine American Civics through the Constitution, Bill of Rights, and the three branches of government. Other topics during the year include the history of slavery and the American Civil War, economics, reform movements and immigration, World War I & II, and the Holocaust. We study the North American continent and U.S. geography. In addition, students research and debate on a Bill of Rights topic of their choice as part of their OSPI-Developed Assessment (formerly known as OSPI's Classroom Based Assessment).

We concentrate on written history and the ability to draw facts, information, and conclusions from written sources. Our writing focuses on well-written paragraphs and well-organized essays which include the effective use of a claim, evidence, and elaboration. Throughout the year we will also focus on vocabulary related to the areas of study. Our curriculum is aligned with the Grade Level Expectations for Social Studies, as well as the Common Core State Standards for English/Language Arts and Literacy in History/Social Studies.

Do you like solving mysteries and watching T.V. shows such as C.S.I.? In Forensic Science you'll have the opportunity to learn the science behind real crime scene investigation. Topics of study include: fingerprints, DNA, blood spatter, toxicology, ballistics and more. Students in this class will work closely with the Port Townsend Police Department and other regional law enforcement and forensic investigative agencies. Prerequisite: Students must be a junior or senior and have successfully passed Science 1 and Science 2. This course may be taken concurrently with Chemistry or Physics.

Lexile Text Measures for Pearson Social Studies Programs

Pearson’s new Social Studies programs received Lexile Text Measure scores that show they are right on target to be considered appropriate text at each grade level.

Teachers use the Lexile Framework™ for Reading to match the ability level of a reader with a text that is written at an appropriate level of difficulty. A Lexile text measure is a number indicating how difficult it is to read the text. Text difficulty is based on factors such as word frequency and sentence length. A Lexile reader measure is a number indicating a person’s ability to read. Reading ability is based on factors such as vocabulary and skills. A reader with a measure of 600L who is given a text measured at 600L is expected to have a 75% comprehension rate. The following chart shows the relationship between grade level and reader and text measures.

A district can choose to establish standards for students such that each student should be reading grade-level appropriate texts with 75% comprehension. This can easily be implemented by selecting texts that have Lexile measures 150L below the reader measures. It is up to educators to determine the optimal level of expected reading comprehension for each reader. (Excerpted from “Lexiles Framework and Reading Levels” and “How is Readability Determined within The Lexile Framework™ for Reading?”) _in sixth grade_, students are ready to deepen their understanding of the Earth and its peoples through the study of history, geography, politics, culture, and economic systems. The recommended context for social studies learning in sixth grade is world history and geography. Students begin their examination of the world by exploring the location, place, and spatial organization of the world’s major regions. This exploration is then followed by looking at world history from its beginnings. Students are given an opportunity to study a few ancient civilizations deeply. In this way, students develop higher levels of critical thinking by considering why civilizations developed where and when they did and why they declined. Students analyze the interactions among the various cultures, emphasizing their enduring contributions and the link between the contemporary and ancient worlds.

EALR 1: CIVICS The student understands and applies knowledge of government, law, politics, and the nation’s fundamental documents to make decisions about local, national, and international issues and to demonstrate thoughtful, participatory citizenship.

Component 1.1: Understands key ideals and principles of the United States, including those in the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution, and other fundamental documents.

This component is addressed in grades K, 2 – 5, 7, 8, 11, and 12.

Component 1.2: Understands the purposes, organization, and function of governments, laws, and political systems.

1.2.3 Understands a variety of forms of government from the past or present.
Examples:
- Compares monarchy and democracy in ancient Greece and ancient Egypt.
- Explains the “Mandate of Heaven” as a principle in the creation of Chinese Dynasties.

Suggested Unit: World—Ancient Civilizations (8000 BCE—600 CE)

Component 1.3: Understands the purposes and organization of international relationships and U.S. foreign policy.

1.3.1 Analyzes how societies have interacted with one another in the past or present.
Examples:
- Examines how goods were exchanged along the Silk Road between China and the Middle East.
- Examines trade between Minoan and Egyptian societies.
- Examines alliances between the Assyrians and the Egyptians.
- Examines how Alexander the Great expanded the Macedonian empire through military conquest and cultural assimilation of neighboring societies.
Component 1.4: Understands civic involvement.

1.4.1 Understands the historical origins of civic involvement.
Examples:
- Explains how the male, property-owning citizens of ancient Athens practiced direct democracy.

Suggested Unit: World—Ancient Civilizations (8000 BCE—600 CE)

EALR 2: ECONOMICS The student applies understanding of economic concepts and systems to analyze decision-making and the interactions between individuals, households, businesses, governments, and societies.

Component 2.1: Understands that people have to make choices between wants and needs and evaluate the outcomes of those choices.

2.1.1 Analyzes the costs and benefits of economic choices made by groups and individuals in the past or present.
Examples:
- Examines how the Phoenicians’ use of finite natural resources forced them to relocate.

Suggested Unit: World—Ancient Civilizations (8000 BCE—600 CE)
OSPI-developed Assessment: People on the Move

Component 2.2: Understands how economic systems function.

2.2.1 Understands the production, distribution, and consumption of goods, services, and resources in societies from the past or in the present.
Examples:
- Compares the production and distribution of agricultural goods in Egypt and Mesopotamia.

Suggested Unit: World—Ancient Civilizations (8000 BCE—600 CE)
OSPI-developed Assessment: Meeting Needs and Wants

2.2.2 Understands how the forces of supply and demand have affected international trade in the past or present.
Examples:
- Compares how ancient Chinese and Egyptian civilizations used trade to meet their needs and wants.
- Explains how demand for spices increased the trade along the Silk Road.

Suggested Unit: World—Ancient Civilizations (8000 BCE—600 CE)

Component 2.3: Understands the government’s role in the economy.

2.3.1 Understands the role of government in the world’s economies through the creation of money, taxation, and spending in the past or present.
Examples:
- Explains how Sumerian priest kings’ need for monetary record keeping advanced the development of cuneiform.
- Explains why people in ancient Greece established the use of coins as money to make trade easier.
- Explains the establishment of salt as a currency in Tikal and other Yucatan Nation States.

Suggested Unit: World—Ancient Civilizations (8000 BCE—600 CE)

Component 2.4: Understands the economic issues and problems that all societies face.

2.4.1 Understands the distribution of wealth and sustainability of resources in the world in the past or present.
Examples:
- Compares the deforestation of Easter Island with the current deforestation of the Amazon rain forest.

Suggested Unit: World—Ancient Civilizations (8000 BCE—600 CE)

EALR 3: GEOGRAPHY The student uses a spatial perspective to make reasoned decisions by applying the concepts of location, region, and movement and demonstrating knowledge of how geographic features and human cultures impact environments.

Component 3.1: Understands the physical characteristics, cultural characteristics, and location of places, regions, and spatial patterns on the Earth’s surface.

3.1.1 Constructs and analyzes maps using scale, direction, symbols, legends and projections to gather information.
Examples:
- Compares past and present satellite images of the Amazon rain forest to illustrate deforestation.
- Constructs a population map of Canada, including annual temperature, and draws conclusions about how the environment affects human settlement.
3.1.2 Identifies the location of places and regions in the world and understands their physical and cultural characteristics.
Examples:
— Identifies the location of the seven continents of the world.
— Explains the unique characteristics of the physical and cultural landscape between North Africa and Sub-Saharan Africa.

Suggested Unit: World Geography

OSPI-developed Assessment: People on the Move

Component 3.2: Understands human interaction with the environment.

3.2.1 Understands and analyzes how the environment has affected people and how people have affected the environment in the past or present.
Examples:
— Examines how people in Mesopotamia shaped agriculture through the building of canals.
— Examines how Incas modified their environment to maximize crop production.

Suggested Unit: World—Ancient Civilizations (8000 BCE—600 CE)

3.2.2 Understands the characteristics of cultures in the world from the past or in the present.
Examples:
— Explains the Mayans' ways of life, including their technology, traditions, language, social roles, beliefs, and values.
— Explains how the Sumerians developed a unique culture based on the domestication of grain.

Suggested Unit: World—Ancient Civilizations (8000 BCE—600 CE)

3.2.3 Understands the geographic factors that influence the movement of groups of people in the past or present.
Examples:
— Compares the factors that led to migration of the Han and the Goths into Europe.
— Compares how the physical environments of island culture influenced Maori and Polynesian migration.

Suggested Unit: World—Ancient Civilizations (8000 BCE—600 CE)

OSPI-developed Assessment: People on the Move
Component 3.3: Understands the geographic context of global issues.

3.3.1 Understands that learning about the geography of the world helps us understand the global issue of sustainability.
Examples:
- Explains how studying the deforestation of Easter Island helps us understand the importance of environmental conservation.
- Explains how irrigation difficulties in Mesopotamia are similar to the challenges currently facing California’s agricultural industry.
- Compares the Anasazi’s struggle to find an adequate water supply in the 13th century with that of many societies today.

Suggested Unit: World—Ancient Civilizations (8000 BCE—600 CE)

EALR 4: HISTORY The student understands and applies knowledge of historical thinking, chronology, eras, turning points, major ideas, individuals, and themes of local, Washington State, tribal, United States, and world history in order to evaluate how history shapes the present and future.

Component 4.1: Understands historical chronology.

4.1.1 Analyzes different cultural measurements of time.
Examples:
- Compares the different ways calendars were used in ancient Egypt and the Mayan civilization to plan agriculture.

Suggested Unit: World—Ancient Civilizations (8000 BCE—600 CE)

4.1.2 Understands how the rise of civilizations defines eras in ancient history by:
- Explaining and comparing the rise of civilizations from 8000 BCE to 200 CE on two or more continents.
- Explaining and comparing the rise of civilizations from 200 CE to 600 CE on two or more continents.

Examples:
- Explains and compares the basic cultural elements of early civilization in Mesopotamia and Egypt (8000 BCE to 200 CE).
- Explains and compares the basic cultural elements of later civilization in Rome and Han China (200 CE to 600 CE).

Component 4.2: Understands and analyzes causal factors that have shaped major events in history.

4.2.1 Understands and analyzes how individuals and movements from ancient civilizations have shaped world history.
Examples:
- Explains the impact of Confucius and Buddha on Eastern belief systems.
— Explains the impact of Aristotle on scientific investigation with human reasoning.

Suggested Unit: World—Ancient Civilizations (8000 BCE—600 CE)

4.2.2 Understands and analyzes how cultures and cultural groups in ancient civilizations contributed to world history.
Examples:
— Explains how Mesopotamia and Egypt responded to environmental challenges.
— Compares the experiences of Jewish slaves in Egypt with those of Greek slaves in the Roman Empire.

Suggested Unit: World—Ancient Civilizations (8000 BCE—600 CE)

OSPI-developed Assessment: Enduring Cultures

4.2.3 Understands and analyzes how technology and ideas from ancient civilizations have impacted world history.
Examples:
— Examines the impact of the Phoenician alphabet on improved communication among societies.
— Examines the impact of irrigation on the establishment of river societies.

Suggested Unit: World—Ancient Civilizations (8000 BCE—600 CE)

</table>
Examples:
- Examines how studying the effects of lead on people living in ancient Rome helps us understand the dangers of lead today.
- Examines how the history of "Tse-whit-zen," an ancient burial ground and native village in Port Angeles, helps us understand the current conflict over use of the land.

Suggested Unit: World—Ancient Civilizations (8000 BCE—600 CE)

OSPI-developed Assessment: Why History?

EALR 5: SOCIAL STUDIES SKILLS The student understands and applies reasoning skills to conduct research, deliberate, and form and evaluate positions through the processes of reading, writing, and communicating.

| Component 5.1: Uses critical reasoning skills to analyze and evaluate positions. |

5.1.1 Understands positions on an issue or event.
Examples:
- Explains positions historians take on Mesopotamia's and Egypt's responses to challenges.
- Explains one's own position on how history helps us understand current events.
- Explains one's own position on the factors that caused the Punic Wars.

Suggested Unit: World—Ancient Civilizations (8000 BCE—600 CE)

OSPI-developed Assessment: Enduring Cultures

5.1.2 Evaluates the significance of information used to support positions on an issue or event.
Examples:
- Selects the most significant information to support positions on Mesopotamia's and Egypt's responses to challenges.
- Selects the most significant information to support positions on how history helps us understand current events.
- Selects the most significant information to support positions on what caused the Punic Wars.

Suggested Unit: World—Ancient Civilizations (8000 BCE—600 CE)

OSPI-developed Assessment: Enduring Cultures

| Component 5.2: Uses inquiry-based research. |

5.2.1 Creates and uses research questions to guide inquiry on an historical event.
Examples:
- Develops a research question to guide inquiry on the challenges that early civilizations faced.
— Develops a research question to guide inquiry to determine how physical geography contributed to the political, economic, and cultural development of a particular civilization.

Suggested Unit: World—Ancient Civilizations (8000 BCE—600 CE)

OSPI-developed Assessment: Enduring Cultures

5.2.2 Analyzes the validity, reliability, and credibility of information from a variety of primary and secondary sources while researching an issue or event.
Examples:
— Uses Cornell Notes to examine the validity, reliability, and credibility of secondary sources on ancient Egypt and Mesopotamia while researching why people relocated to the Middle East during ancient times.
— Uses a Venn diagram to examine the validity, reliability, and credibility of primary sources on the causes of the Peloponnesian Wars.

Suggested Unit: World—Ancient Civilizations (8000 BCE—600 CE)

OSPI-developed Assessments: People on the Move; Why History; Enduring Cultures; Meeting Needs and Wants

Component 5.3: Deliberates public issues.

5.3.1 Engages in discussions that clarify and address multiple viewpoints on public issues.
Examples:
— Engages in a debate to clarify multiple viewpoints on how the Phoenicians could have conserved resources.
— Engages in a discussion to address multiple viewpoints on how studying the history of Mesopotamia helps one understand current issues in the Middle East region.

Suggested Unit: World—Ancient Civilizations (8000 BCE—600 CE)

OSPI-developed Assessments: Enduring Cultures; Why History?

Component 5.4: Creates a product that uses social studies content to support a thesis and presents the product in an appropriate manner to a meaningful audience.

5.4.1 Analyzes multiple factors, compares two groups, generalizes, and connects past to present to formulate a thesis in a paper or presentation.
Examples:
— Examines multiple factors, generalizes, and connects the past to the present to formulate a thesis on the significance of the fall of Rome in a paper.
— Examines multiple factors, generalizes, and connects past to present to formulate a thesis on the significance of the Peloponnesian War in a presentation.

Suggested Unit: World—Ancient Civilizations (8000 BCE—600 CE)
5.4.2 Understands and demonstrates the ethical responsibility one has in using and citing sources and the rules related to plagiarism and copyright. Examples:

- Demonstrates ethical responsibility while writing a paper by using one's own words and giving credit to ideas from others.
- Explains the legal and ethical consequences of plagiarism.
Social Studies – Grade 7

In seventh grade, students become more proficient with the core concepts in social studies. There are two recommended contexts in which students can demonstrate this proficiency in the seventh grade. The first part of the year is focused on a continuation of world history from sixth grade as students look at the geography, civics, and economics of major societies up through 1450 C.E. The second part of the year asks students to bring their understanding to their world today as they examine Washington State from 1889 to the present. The study of Washington State includes an examination of the state constitution and key treaties. While these two contexts may be very different, the purpose of studying these different regions and eras is the same: to develop enduring understandings of the core concepts and ideas in civics, economics, geography, and history.

EALR 1: CIVICS The student understands and applies knowledge of government, law, politics, and the nation’s fundamental documents to make decisions about local, national, and international issues and to demonstrate thoughtful, participatory citizenship.

Component 1.1: Understands key ideals and principles of the United States, including those in the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution, and other fundamental documents.

1.1.1 Understands how key ideals set forth in fundamental documents, including the Washington State Constitution and tribal treaties, define the goals of our state.
Examples:
— Explains how liberty is defined in the Washington State Constitution.
— Explains how justice is defined in the Washington State Constitution.
— Explains how sovereignty is defined in and limited by tribal treaties.
— Explains how the Washington State Constitution defines equality when declaring that it is "the paramount duty of the state to make ample provision for the education of all children residing within its borders, without distinction or preference on account of race, color, caste, or sex."

Suggested Unit: WA—Railroads, Reform, Immigration, and Labor (1889—1930)

1.1.2 Analyzes the relationship between the actions of people in Washington State and the ideals outlined in the State Constitution.
Examples:
— Examines the relationship between Washington State citizens' support for Gordon Hirabayashi's resistance to incarceration and the right to "due process" outlined in Article 1, Section 3 of the State Constitution.
— Examines the relationship between Washington State women's contribution to the war effort during World War II and the equality of rights and responsibility outlined in Article 31, Section 1 of the State Constitution.
— Examines the relationship between the implementation of the Bracero Program and the personal rights outlined in Article 1, Section 3 of the State Constitution.
Component 1.2: Understands the purposes, organization, and function of governments, laws, and political systems.

1.2.1 Understands and analyzes the structure, organization, and powers of government at the local, state, and tribal levels, including the concept of tribal sovereignty.
Examples:
  — Explains the organization and powers of city and county government.
  — Explains the organization and powers of the three branches of Washington State government.
  — Explains the organization and powers of a local tribal government.
  — Explains the populist features of the Washington State Constitution, including initiative and referendum.

Suggested Unit: WA—Contemporary Washington State (1980—present)

1.2.3 Understands various forms of government and their effects on the lives of people in the past or present.
Examples:
  — Compares the effects of theocracy on the lives of people in the Islamic Caliphate and the Mayan Kingdom.
  — Compares and contrasts the effects of feudalism on the lives of people in medieval Europe and Japan.

Suggested Unit: World—Major Societies (600—1450)

Component 1.3: Understands the purposes and organization of international relationships and U.S. foreign policy.

1.3.1 Analyzes how international agreements have affected Washington State in the past or present.
Examples:
  — Examines how the World Trade Organization has affected environmental regulations and employment opportunities in Washington State.
  — Examines how treaties have affected fishing in Washington State.

Suggested Unit: WA—Contemporary Washington State (1980—present)

OSPI-developed Assessment: International Relations

Component 1.4: Understands civic involvement.

1.4.1 Understands the effectiveness of different forms of civic involvement.
Examples:
  — Explains the influence of letters to the editor of the local paper on school funding and instructional resources.
— Explains the influence of testimony at public hearings on laws regulating the use of private property.
— Explains how lobbying the legislature contributed to the passage of the "Becca Bill."

Suggested Unit: WA—Contemporary Washington State (1980—present)

EALR 2: ECONOMICS The student applies understanding of economic concepts and systems to analyze decision-making and the interactions between individuals, households, businesses, governments, and societies.

Component 2.1: Understands that people have to make choices between wants and needs and evaluate the outcomes of those choices.

2.1.1 Analyzes the importance of financial literacy in making economic choices related to spending, saving, and investing.
Examples:
— Examines the costs and benefits of getting a credit card and accumulating debt.
— Examines the pros and cons of buying a Washington State lottery ticket.
— Examines how people in Washington State make choices about where to invest their money for the highest return and lowest risk.
— Examines how people evaluate advertising when choosing where to spend their money.

Suggested Unit: WA—Contemporary Washington State (1980—present)

Component 2.2: Understands how economic systems function.

2.2.1 Analyzes the production, distribution, and consumption of goods, services, and resources in societies from the past or in the present.
Examples:
— Examines the types of services offered under feudalism in medieval Europe and Japan in helping people meet their needs and wants.
— Examines the role women played in the Washington State economy before, during, and after World War II.

Suggested Unit: World—Major Societies (600—1450)

2.2.2 Understands and analyzes how the forces of supply and demand have affected international trade in Washington State in the past or present.
Examples:
— Examines how the demand for lumber in Japan and supply of lumber in Washington State has led to a trade relationship.
— Examines how the impact of Japan's demand for raw lumber affects Washington State’s lumber industry.
— Examines how the Pacific Salmon Treaty has affected the harvesting and exporting of salmon.
Component 2.3: Understands the government’s role in the economy.

2.3.1 Understands and analyzes the role of government in the economy of Washington State through taxation, spending, and policy setting in the past or present.
Examples:
- Examines how the Legislature levies taxes to create public schools, state parks, and sporting arenas.
- Examines how state laws have improved the economic and living conditions of migrant farm workers through the establishment of a higher minimum wage.
- Examines how tribal councils invest monies from enterprises, such as gaming, into their communities.
- Examines what authority tribal governments have to impose taxes.

Component 2.4: Understands the economic issues and problems that all societies face.

2.4.1 Understands and analyzes the distribution of wealth and sustainability of resources in Washington State.
Examples:
- Examines the effects of economic growth in Washington State agriculture on the distribution of wealth and sustainability.
- Examines the relationship between types of employment and standard of living.
- Examines how the emergence of Microsoft has affected income distribution in Washington State.
- Examines the efforts of the Northwest Indian Fish Commission to co-manage the state’s natural resources.

EALR 3: GEOGRAPHY The student uses a spatial perspective to make reasoned decisions by applying the concepts of location, region, and movement and demonstrating knowledge of how geographic features and human cultures impact environments.

Component 3.1: Understands the physical characteristics, cultural characteristics, and location of places, regions, and spatial patterns on the Earth’s surface.

3.1.1 Analyzes maps and charts from a specific time period to analyze an issue or event.
Examples:
- Examines a map of the Northwest and constructs an interpretation about why Japanese internment camps were placed where they were.

Suggested Unit: WA—The Great Depression and World War II (1930—1945)

3.1.2 Understands how human spatial patterns have emerged from natural processes and human activities in the past or present.
Examples:
- Compares the patterns of human settlement in Middle Eastern and European countries during the Crusades and explains the reasons for similarities and differences.
- Explains the differences in spatial patterns between the agricultural regions of the Palouse and those of the Skagit Valley in Washington State.

Suggested Unit: World—Major Societies (600—1450)

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Component 3.2: Understands human interaction with the environment.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

3.2.1 Understands and analyzes how the environment has affected people and how people have affected the environment in Washington State in the past or present.
Examples:
- Examines how the Columbia Basin Irrigation Project impacted the Yakima River.
- Compares how Washington State’s suburban and rural communities have impacted the environment differently.
- Examines the impact of urban sprawl on the natural environment and communities.

OSPI-developed Assessment: Humans and the Environment

3.2.2 Understands examples of cultural diffusion in the world from the past or in the present.
Examples:
- Explains the spread of Christianity and Islam across Europe and Africa.
- Explains how the Norman Conquest of England led to the diffusion of French language into English.
- Explains how the Islamic culture influenced European art during the Renaissance.
- Explains how the establishment of Indian boarding schools led to the loss of tradition and language within tribes in the Pacific Northwest.

Suggested Unit: World—Major Societies (600—1450)

3.2.3 Understands the role of immigration in shaping societies in the past or present.
Examples:
- Draws conclusions about the role Norwegian immigrants had on urban development in coastal communities.
- Understands the role of the Klondike Gold Rush on the development of Seattle.
Suggested Unit: WA—Railroads, Reform, Immigration, and Labor (1889—1930)

Component 3.3: Understands the geographic context of global issues.

This component is addressed in grades 3, 4, 6, and 8 – 12.

EALR 4: HISTORY The student understands and applies knowledge of historical thinking, chronology, eras, turning points, major ideas, individuals, and themes of local, Washington State, tribal, United States, and world history in order to evaluate how history shapes the present and future.

Component 4.1: Understands historical chronology.

4.1.1 Analyzes a major historical event and how it is represented on timelines from different cultural perspectives.

Examples:
- Examines how the Crusades are represented differently on Christian and Muslim timelines.
- Examines how the Islamic Conquest of the Iberian Peninsula is represented differently on Christian and Muslim timelines.

Suggested Unit: World—Major Societies (600—1450)

4.1.2 Understands how themes and developments have defined eras in Washington State and world history by:

- Explaining and comparing the development of major societies from 600 to 1450 in two or more regions of the world.

Examples
- Explains and compares the development of Islam and Hinduism.
- Explains and compares feudalism in Japan and Europe.
- Explains and compares the development of the Aztec empire with that of the Mali kingdom.
- Explains and compares the development of the Incan Empire with that of ancient Ghana.

- Explaining how the following themes and developments help to define eras in Washington State history from 1854 to the present:
  - Territory and treaty-making (1854—1889).
  - Railroads, reform, immigration, and labor (1889—1930).
  - The Great Depression and World War II (1930—1945).
  - New technologies and industries (1945—1980).

Examples:
- Explains how the exchange of land for continued fishing and hunting rights in the Point No Point Treaty helps to define the treaty-making period.
--- Explains how women gaining the right to vote in 1910 helps to define Washington State history from 1889 to 1930 as a period of reform.
--- Explains how the building of dams as part of the New Deal helps to define the 1930s and 1940s in Washington State.
--- Explains how the establishment of the civilian aerospace industry after World War II helps to define this era as a time of new technologies and industries.
--- Explains how international trade treaties affecting Washington State business and agriculture help to define contemporary Washington.

Component 4.2: Understands and analyzes causal factors that have shaped major events in history.

4.2.1 Understands and analyzes how individuals and movements have shaped Washington State or world history.
Examples:
--- Explains the impact of Muhammad and the spread of Islam on world civilization.
--- Explains the impact of Chapultepec on the development of Meso-America.

Suggested Unit: World—Major Societies (600—1450)

4.2.2 Understands and analyzes how cultures and cultural groups contributed to Washington State or world history.
Examples:
--- Explains how the experiences of the Polynesians on Easter Island show the effect of exploitation of limited natural resources.
--- Explains how the Mali Empire shaped African history in the 11th century and beyond.

Suggested Unit: World—Major Societies (600—1450)

4.2.3 Understands and analyzes how technology and ideas have impacted Washington State or world history.
Examples:
--- Examines how the invention of algebra by Muhammad Ibn Musa al-Khwarizmi led to advancements in mathematics, astronomy, astrology, geography, and cartography.
--- Examines the effects of the moveable type on literacy in Song China.

Suggested Unit: World—Major Societies (600—1450)

Component 4.3: Understands that there are multiple perspectives and interpretations of historical events.

4.3.1 Analyzes and interprets historical materials from a variety of perspectives in Washington State or world history.
Examples:
--- Constructs an interpretation of why the U.S. government incarcerated Japanese Americans, as well as the effects of the incarceration, using historical materials from Washington State.
— Examines conflicting accounts of the effects of dams in the Pacific Northwest.

Suggested Unit: WA—The Great Depression and World War II (1930—1945)

OSPI-developed Assessment: Dig Deep—Analyzing Sources

4.3.2 Analyzes multiple causal factors that shape major events in Washington State or world history.
Examples:
— Presents a position on the causes and outcomes of the Indian Wars in Washington Territory, demonstrating understanding of varying viewpoints of the conflict.

Suggested Unit: WA—Territory and Treaty-Making (1854—1889)

OSPI-developed Assessment: Causes of Conflict

Component 4.4: Uses history to understand the present and plan for the future.

4.4.1 Analyzes how an event in Washington State or world history helps us to understand a current issue.
Examples:
— Examines how the history of damming the Snake and Columbia Rivers helps us understand tension between the agricultural, environmental, and tribal communities.

— Examines how the history of the Islamic Empire helps us understand issues in the Middle East today.

EALR 5: Social Studies Skills The student understands and applies reasoning skills to conduct research, deliberate, and form and evaluate positions through the processes of reading, writing, and communicating.

Component 5.1: Uses critical reasoning skills to analyze and evaluate positions.

5.1.1 Understands evidence supporting a position on an issue or event.
Examples:
— Explains the evidence supporting a position on how the World Trade Organization has affected trade between Washington State and Japan.
— Explains the evidence supporting a position on how the North American Free Trade Agreement has affected trade between Washington State and Canada.

Suggested Unit: WA—Contemporary Washington State (1980—present)

OSPI-developed Assessment: International Relations
5.1.2 Evaluates the breadth of evidence supporting positions on an issue or event.
Examples:
— Critiques how one accounts for a range of perspectives when developing a position on the trade relationship between Washington State and Japan.
— Critiques how one accounts for a range of perspectives when developing a position on the effects of the North American Free Trade Agreement on the Washington State economy.

Suggested Unit: A—Contemporary Washington State (1980—present)

OSPI-developed Assessment: International Relations

Component 5.2: Uses inquiry-based research.

5.2.1 Creates and uses research questions to guide inquiry on an issue or event.
Examples:
— Develops a research question to guide inquiry on how the demand for lumber in Japan and the supply of lumber in Washington State led to a trade relationship between the two countries.
— Develops a research question to guide inquiry on how the Pacific Salmon Treaty has affected the harvesting and exporting of salmon.

Suggested Unit: WA—Contemporary Washington State (1980—present)

OSPI-developed Assessments: International Relations; Dig Deep – Analyzing Sources; Causes of Conflict

5.2.2 Evaluates the breadth of primary and secondary sources and analyzes notes to determine the need for additional information while researching an issue or event.
Examples:
— Critiques the range of perspectives reflected in sources related to feudalism in Japan and Europe during the Middle Ages.
— Critiques the range of perspectives reflected in sources related to the Crusades.

Suggested Unit: World—Major Societies (600—1450)

OSPI-developed Assessments: Dig Deep – Analyzing Sources; International Relations; Causes of Conflict; Humans and the Environment

Component 5.3: Deliberates public issues.

5.3.1 Analyzes and responds to multiple viewpoints on public issues brought forth in the context of a discussion.
Examples:

— Engages in a Socratic seminar to analyze and respond to the multiple viewpoints on how the World Trade Organization has affected environmental regulations and employment opportunities in Washington State.
— Engages in a discussion to analyze and respond to the multiple viewpoints on how treaty fishing rights have affected the return of the Chinook salmon to the Columbia River.

Suggested Unit: WA—Contemporary Washington State (1980—present)

OSPI-developed Assessment: International Relations

Component 5.4: Creates a product that uses social studies content to support a thesis and presents the product in an appropriate manner to a meaningful audience.

5.4.1 Analyzes multiple factors, makes generalizations, and interprets primary sources to formulate a thesis in a paper or presentation.
Examples:
— Examines the lasting impact of the incarceration of Japanese Americans using newspapers, governmental records, and journals of those who were incarcerated.
— Examines the impact of feudalism in medieval Europe and Japan using art and artifacts.

Suggested Unit: World—Major Societies (600—1450)

OSPI-developed Assessments: Dig Deep – Analyzing Sources; International Relations; Causes of Conflict; Humans and the Environment

5.4.2 Creates annotated bibliography or works cited page using an appropriate format.
Examples:
— Develops a bibliography annotated with a summary of the resources used, non-text features of the resources, and the questions the resources answer.

President's Council on Fitness, Sports, and Nutrition replaced the President’s Challenge with the Presidential Youth Fitness Program (PYFP) which provides a new model for fitness assessment. The program reinforces fitness education so young people develop a cognitive understanding about fitness and adopt healthy lifestyles. The focus is more on being active and less on performance.

The web-based program to aid in this program is called FITNESSGRAM. This is a comprehensive reporting tool to assess physical fitness and physical activity levels. Scores are entered into the software and teachers, students, and parents can access the reports and from that determine what kind of physical activity is needed to achieve the health zone standard. It is used as the assessment of the PYFP because it:

1. Uses criterion-referenced standards. This means that a student can compare his/her scores with standards that have been identified for good health. This system prevents students from being compared to other students participating in the assessment.
2. Assesses the current fitness level of students and promotes individual goal setting to allow students to take ownership of their health.
3. Does not assess skill or athletic ability.

The funding we were awarded covers three years of the FITNESSGRAM software use, tech support, training, texts, and student awards. After the third year, it will cost us $149 a year for the web hosting. Brockport Physical Fitness Test is part of the program, which assesses students with disabilities.

Funding comes from General Mills Foundation and is administered by The National Foundation of Fitness, Sports, and Nutrition, SHAPE America (Society of Health and Physical Educators), and The Cooper Institute, co-sponsors of PYPP.

FIELD TRIP TO
The Oregon Shakespeare Festival
Ashland, Oregon
Monday, June 8th – Sunday, June 14th, 2015

Permission Form

For this field trip, students will meet Mrs. Nielsen and Mr. Guthrie by the Lincoln Building at the school vans on Monday, June 9th at 8:30 A.M. We will travel by school van(s) and private car(s) to Ashland, Oregon. We will be staying at the Ashland Hostel through June 14th, when we will climb back in the van(s)/car(s) and head home. In between we will see seven plays and enjoy other activities in and around the festival. The plays we will see are: Guys and Dolls, Anthony and Cleopatra, Pericles, Much Ado About Nothing, Fingersmith, Head Over Heels and The Count of Monte Cristo.

The cost per student is $200.00 but some scholarship funds are available for those who have a financial hardship. Students will need to bring between $100.00 - $150.00 for lunches, souvenirs and extras. The drama fund will cover the cost of groceries for breakfasts, snacks and dinners for the whole trip. Please see the suggested packing list from the Ashland Hostel as you prepare for the trip.

Suitability Warning for Fingersmith. (From OSF) This world premiere adaptation of Sarah Waters' celebrated novel is a psychologically rich and intriguing mystery. The play contains an instance of rear female nudity and three sex scenes in which the characters are clothed; two between the play's heroines and one between a man and a woman. Brief snippets of 19th century erotica are read, there is occasional strong profanity, as well as physical and emotional violence inflicted in a madhouse. Mature high school students who are prepared to handle the play's content will enjoy this literate and thrilling look at Victorian England through the lens of Waters' 21st-century feminist point of view.

I give my permission for ___________________________________________ to attend the Oregon Shakespeare Festival trip from June 8 - 14, 2015.

INSTRUCTION

Waiver of High School Graduation Credits

The board seeks to provide all students with the opportunity to complete graduation requirements without discrimination and without disparate impact on groups of students. In so doing, the board acknowledges that unusual circumstances may result in a student’s inability to earn all twenty-four credits required for high school graduation. Unusual circumstances may include, but are not limited to:

A. Homelessness
B. A health condition resulting in an inability to attend class
C. Limited English proficiency
D. Disability, regardless of whether the student has an individualized education program or a plan under Section 504 of the Federal Rehabilitation Act of 1973
E. Denial of an opportunity to retake classes or enroll in remedial classes free of charge during the first four years of high school
F. Transfer during the last two years of high school from a school with different graduation requirements
G. Other circumstances (e.g., emergency, natural disaster, trauma, personal or family crisis) that directly compromised a student’s ability to learn

The board delegates to the superintendent or his/her designee discretion to grant a waiver of a maximum of two elective credits required for graduation. A student’s parent/guardian or an adult student must file the Port Townsend School District Application for Waiver of High School Graduation Credits (Form 2418F) with the superintendent’s office no later than thirty days prior to the student’s scheduled graduation date. In order to graduate, students granted a waiver must earn seventeen required subject credits (four English, three Math, three Science, three Social Studies, two Health and Fitness, one Arts, one Career and Technical Education) which may be by satisfactory demonstration of competence as provided by WAC 180-51-050.

PORT TOWNSEND SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 50
It is with deep sorrow, that I resign amidst these trying times from both the position of assistant boys basketball coach and 7th/8th grade girls basketball coach. While my record of 1-26 is both incredible and awe-inspiring, and many offers for me to become the next coach wooden have been arriving in the mail, my new focus is playing the piccolo and I need to devote all of my already limited free time to it.

Thanks Scott for the opportunity and it was a very good learning experience. It was good to learn coaching the boys but I think you are right in terms of the value of the experience down at blue heron. I wish I could continue staying on the team. I also want to express my gratitude about the candor that both you and amy have used in conversations with me. I have needed it immensely and the school district here is lucky to have you both!

Cheers and thanks for everything!

Sincerely walker
